DEMOCRATIC TICKET,
FOR AFFILIATE DELEGATES
HON. W. S. PIPPOR,
OF HENRY.

LIBERAL REPUBLICAN TICKET.

HORACE GREENLY,
NEW YORK.
FOR VICE PRESIDENT,
B. GRATZ BROWN,
OF PENNSYLVANIA.

With these we send the following
Independent ticket for the Vice President, which is entitled to a seat at the convention.

CAMPAIGN CLUBS.

As the Congressional and Presidential contest has fairly opened, we desire to offer to the citizens of this part of the State, a cheap medium of political news; and we now offer to clubs of ten or more, our paper from May 10th to the 1st of December, for the small sum of 75 cents and to single subscribers for the same length of time, at 81.00.

The present political canvass will be one of very great importance, and our facilities for furnishing our people with reliable and accurate political news, have never been excelled. Send in your clubs and subscriptions at once!

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

Our readers, save doubtless, can be foretold that the Republican convention at Philadelphia nominated General Grant for a second term at the White House. But this is no surprise to my own. He was their only hope, in this the hour of their great tribulation. With a party divided, broken and dismembered; with fading glory and departing power, they could see no ray of light breaking upon their future pathway which did not flow from Grant. With the hosts of Liberal Republicans, led by Greeley and Brown—with the great Democratic party just on the eve of meeting in convention, the preference of the people of the country—the worst disappointed of whom are the Radicals themselves—just at that moment the dangerous power of the President, the power to suspend the hallowed writ of habeas corpus, expired by limitation. The enforcement bill passed with the clause giving tenure stricken out, and a substantial victory won by the Democrats and their allies, the Radicals. The election law now reads: First, that two citizens, instead of two, shall unite in asking, in writing, for the appointment of supervisors of Federal election; second, that no additional marshal shall be appointed beyond the number now authorized by law; third, that none of those officers shall have power to arrest any one, and shall consequently no longer shall be called for; fourth, that the marshal shall remain in the immediate presence of officers of election to witness the casting of votes, and to see the returns made up. They sign no certificates nor make any change unless they are legal officers of the election.

Grant is not the pot and lid of his party that he once was. His popularity has been greatly increased since the time of his nomination. If the true sentiments of the hearts of his supporters could be read, it would soon be seen that there are many other Radicals preferred to him and far more respected. Nothing but the separating power and the curse of the nation, together with the army and navy at his back, have secured to him this second appointment by his party. No special fitness of the man for the position, no special love which his people have for him, and no great measures of public good wrought by him during his administration, have had anything whatever to do in placing his name on the Republican ticket. Why refuse to Colfax the second place? A man of far more ability than Grant, and one who is identified with the great West; why is he not chosen? The reason is plain. He had no power to favor friends, and hence the result.

Hon. Henry Wilson, one of the ablest Republicans in the North, was put in his place; and while we do not doubt that Mr. Wilson is far older than either Grant or Colfax, still we think Mr. Colfax deserved to be nominated by his party because they nominated Grant; and in view of the fact that he served his party as faithfully as Grant did, and hence the result.

POLITICAL NEWS.

STATE CONVENTIONS.

The Iowa Democratic State Convention met at Des Moines on the 11th inst., and

Resolved, That the principles enunciated in the Cincinnati Convention, taken in connection with the letter of Horace Greeley accepting the nomination of that convention, constitute a platform on which all the elements of opposition to the present corrupt administration of the Federal government stand.

Resolved, That this convention instructed its delegates to the Baltimore convention to vote and act as a unit upon all questions.

OUR COUNTY MEETING.

The proceedings of our county convention will be found in our paper this week. They have the right ring, and express the views of the large majority of Kentucky Democrats.

The Delaware Democratic Convention met at Dover on the 14th, and denounced Grant in the bitterest terms, and pronounced the 13th, 14th, and 15th amendments to the Constitution as a fraud on the American people, and called for a straight Democratic ticket.

The Indiana State convention, held at Greely and Brown yesterday and nominated straight-out Democrats, Hon. Thos. Hendricks for Governor, and W. C. Dehaven for Lieutenant Governor, with the Liberal pledge to the ticket.

Vooches for the Rep. in Congress while a fierce battle was being fought to nominate at this convention and is now not only the "worst pill in the box," but the "black duck in the bunch."

Lucius county sent up one furnish for the old white hat on last Monday, the proceedings of the convention.

DISTRICT CONVENTION.

STANFORD, Ky., June 10, 1872.

THE INTERIOR JOURNAL.

FRIDAY, JUNE 14, 1872.

For the Housekeeper.

A WORD TO MOTHERS.

Why will mothers know that to live and possess the confidence of their daughters is to secure them from evil? Never make them afraid to tell you anything; never make them ashamed of the natural desire to have attention from the other sex. Admit the liking for it as belonging to youth—to your past youth—but at the same time enforce the judicious timing of it; and above all encourage a frank avowal of, and sympathy with, their youthful preferences. Many a young girl now lost to herself and society might have been saved by such a course. Harsh rebuke of these natural feelings is like pruning all the leaves and blossoms from a young plant; lost stray insects should light upon it—Fairy Fern.

CARPETED FLOORS.

When a carpet is taken up to be cleaned, the floor beneath is generally much covered with dust. This dust is very fine and dry, and poisonous to the lungs. Before removing it, sprinkle the floor with very dilute carbolic acid, to kill any poisonous germs that may be present, and to thoroughly disinfect the floor and render it sweet.

CHEAT PAINT.

A cheap paint may be made for out-buildings and general use by taking milk and cement, or water-like, as some call it; mix and apply three or four coats; a dry color may be added. This will last for years, and by renewing once in two or three years, a building will be kept looking well at small expense.

A CANDLE TO BURN ALL NIGHT.

When, as in a case of illness, still light is wished, or when matches are quenched, put powdered salt on the candle till it reaches the black part of the wick. In this way a mild light may be kept through the night by a small piece of candle.

Origin of Footscap Paper.

The term footscap, to designate a certain kind of paper, no doubt has puzzled many an inquirer. The origin is not only amusing, but historical. Charles I. of England, granted numerous monopolies for the support of the Government. Among others was the manufacture of paper. The water-mark of the first sort was the royal arms of England.—The consumption of this article was great, and large fortunes were made by those who had purchased the exclusive to vend it. This, among other monopolies, was set aside by the Parliament that brought Charles I. to the scaffold; and, by way of showing contempt for the King, they ordered the royal arms to be taken from the paper. It was the foot of the cap and the sole of the shoe which was the paper of the size, which the Rump Parliament ordered for their journals, which still bears the name of the water-mark placed there as an indulgence to Charles.

The "witty cause" of the Coercive Journal says: The Cincinnati Convention nominated a printer and an editor, and now the Philadelphia Convention has gone and nominated a tanner and shoemaker. And that is a bold attempt of theirs to monopolize the leather trade. But as the Radical candidate for President and Vice President will inevitably be defeated in November next, it is lucky for them that they each have a good trade to fall back upon. He thinks however, that Henry Wilson should not have sought to step in Colfax's shoes. His strongest hold is his ability to make a pair of his own. But Colfax is now happy. He has been granted permission to gratify his long-cherished wish to retire to the shades of private life, and now, as simply the president of that Indiana chair factory, there is no reason why he shouldn't enjoy a repose beyond the bliss of dreams.

The Cincinnati Commercial notices that Greeley has but one brother-in-law and no father, and his nephews are all nice.

An Indiana gentleman last week drank the contents of a quart bottle of yeast, and is now considered a rising man.

The Colorado potato bug has made its appearance in Shelby county by thousands.

TENNESSEE contains 23,000,000 acres of unimproved land, and only 6,000,000 under cultivation.
